PRICE FIVE CENTS

REPUBLICANS

Swept Everything Before Them
In City and State Last Tuesday.

Hon. Augustus E. Willson For Governor by Immense Majority.

James F. Grinstead Leads His Ticket to a Signal Victory.

THE RESULT IN OTHER STATES

The results of the election in Kentucky last Tuesday and the sweeping victory of the Republican party are matters of history, about which little more than would be new can now be said. Hon. Augustus E. Willson, Republican nominee for Governor, carried his entire ticket through, receiving a majority of about 18,000. In Louisville, his home city, he received a tremendous vote, making the ticket by thousands and making his election a certainty. Throughout the State, but especially in the Democratic strongholds, he made wonderful gains. Since the result has become known Gov. Willson has been submerged with letters and telegrams of congratulation from all sections of the country, and the Democrats are agreed that if they had to have a Republican Chief Executive he would be their choice. Especially gratifying to his friends is the fact that he is the first man from Louisville to be elected Governor of the State. That he will give the people a safe and honest administration is the belief of Democrats as well as Republicans.

More astonishing than the outcome of the Governor's race was the result of the contest for the General Assembly, which also is claimed by both parties by a very close vote on joint ballot. The Democrats won a safe majority in the Senate, but in the House it is otherwise, and therefore the chances for Gov. Beckham's election to the United States Senate are jeopardized. In this instance it is already believed that a sufficient number of Democrats will refuse to vote for Gov. Beckham on joint ballot, thereby causing a deadlock and preventing his election at this session. His opponent will doubtless be ex-Gov. William O. Bradley, as his is the only name thus far mentioned in connection with the high honor.

In Louisville and Jefferson county the Republicans swept the platter clean, electing Hon. James F. Grinstead and almost his entire ticket by majorities of nearly 5,000, the only exceptions being Chris Mueller for the Legislature and four School Trustees. The reasons for this crushing defeat are many and not hard to find, despite the fact that a better Democratic ticket had never before been presented the voters of Louisville, which gives the victory cause for great jubilation. Hon. Owen Tyle made a wonderful race and his friends stood by him only, but the discordant element, that element which stands for personal gain and rule or ruin policy, was sufficient to cause the defeat of the Democratic party. When the returns were in Tuesday night Mr. Tyler sent congratulations to his victorious opponent, who received the news of his election with a calmness and dignity that becomes the man. Mayor Grinstead pledges himself to stand squarely on the platform on which he made his race and carry out every pledge made during the campaign. Now that he is elected Mayor the people of Louisville should bow to the will of the majority and give him their support as long as he gives them a good administration.

In New York the Democrats were again victorious, electing the ticket put forth by Tammany Hall and routing the Republicans and Bourne's Independence League, which had combined and named a muckrapping ticket. This election puts an end to Hearst in New York State, and the only thing left for him to do is to fuse with Watterson in Kentucky.

Rhode Island stands in the Democratic column, having re-elected Gov. James Higgins by an increased majority, and the last reports were that the Legislature was very close. Maryland also returned to the Democratic column, choosing Democratic State officers and a Legislature that will send a Democrat to the Senate.

Massachusetts gave Gov. Gold, the Republican candidate, a plurality of over 100,000 votes, electing the entire ticket. The Democrats were badly split and had no show whatever from the day they held two State conventions. In New Jersey the contest was bitter, but the Republicans carried the State by 7,000. In Jersey City Mark Fagan, who was seeking his fourth term as Mayor, was defeated by 9,000.

The Mayoralty contest in Cleveland, which for months has attracted the attention of the entire country, resulted in a glorious victory for Tom L. Johnson, who was elected Mayor for the fourth term. Unusual importance attached to this contest from the fact that Congressman Theodore Burton, Chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, and supposed to be the candidate of President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft, resigned his seat to make the race.

Mayor Johnson's plurality was over 9,000, and referring to his election he said: "Through all the confusion and slander the people kept their minds fixed upon the real issue, so that today Cleveland is a free city. It was the people's fight; it is the people's victory. The right may lose a battle, but it never lost a war. Our seven years' war is won. Cleveland will go on with its great work, it will recognize all the lawful and equitable rights of the defeated monopoly, but it will reserve and preserve all the rights of the people." Mayor Johnson is a native of Louisville.

In San Francisco there were three candidates for Chief Executive, the incumbent, Mayor Taylor, who succeeded Schmitz, being the winner by a plurality of between 8,000 and 9,000.

SACRED COLLEGE

Reported That Cardinals Will Be Created Next Month.

The death of Cardinal Stenzel has deprived the Jesuit order of its last representative in the Sacred College of Cardinals and will make it necessary for the Pope to nominate another member of the order. There is much speculation as to what member of the powerful order will be chosen to succeed the late Cardinal. His nomination to the Sacred College can not be delayed very long, following the traditions of the church. It is more than probable that the nomination will take place at the next Consistory, which is to be held early in December. It is said prelates in a position to know declare the choice of the Pope will fall on Father Brandt, who for many years was the leading editor of the Civita Cattolica, the prominent semi-monthly organ of the order. It was Father Brandt who for nearly twenty years sustained the rights of the Holy See in the matter of the temporal power and defended the dogmas and rights of the church in a numberless series of articles. His services to the Holy See are considered of such value in Vatican circles that nobody would be surprised if he were promoted to the highest honor given by the church.

At the December Consistory it is definitely settled that the Archbishop of Westminster, Mgr. Francis Bourne, will be promoted to a seat in the Sacred College, and so also will three Austrian and German Bishops.

FATHER O'GRADY

Patriot Priest Here Working For Irish National School.

The Rev. Father Patrick J. O'Grady, C. C., the "Patriot Priest of Ballaghaderreen," who attracted the attention of Ireland throughout the world when he erected a monument to the memory of Bartholomew Teeling, a hero of '98, in the face of much opposition, is in America on a mission to interest his countrymen and others identified with educational work in a new national school which he and several of his fellow-priests wish to found at Ballaghaderreen, in the historic Archdiocese. The new institution is in no way intended as an ecclesiastical project; its aim being to prepare young Ireland for any vocation in life. Outside of the Jesuit colleges there are few such secular schools in Ireland. He has gathered about him a group of young priests who have pledged their life effort to the erection and care of a national university. Father O'Grady brings introductory letters from the leading figures in Ireland's struggle for independence, in the educational feature of which he has been greatly in the foreground. He wishes to avoid the petty political entanglements in which his countrymen frequently become embroiled, and to link them together in the broader movement for the general education of the younger generations. Father O'Grady arrived last Saturday and is now in New York.

GERMANS

Will Banquet Taft During His Stay in Berlin.

With the visit of Secretary Taft only a few weeks off the German authorities at Berlin, municipal as well as State, are busy preparing to give the American statesman a hearty welcome. Representatives of the Kaiser, as well as of the city of Berlin, will receive the Secretary at the depot, and from the moment he sets foot on German territory he will be carried from one banquet to another. The Kaiser will receive him in audience the day after his arrival and will invite him to be present at a magnificent review of the whole garrison of the city, to be held on the Tempelhofer Field. Part of the time Secretary Taft will be taken in charge by the German Minister of War, General von Einem, who will show him various technical military innovations. It is suggested that the lifting power of Major Parfissal's and Count Zeppelein's dirigible airships be tested by inviting Secretary Taft to make an ascension in each, but whether he will consent to act as ballast is a matter of doubt.

DELMONT CLUB ELECTION.

The annual election of the Delmont Club for the selection of a Board of Directors was held Wednesday night at the club house on Story avenue, and when the votes were counted the following were declared the choice and will serve until January 1909. Messrs. Joseph Blasi, Louis W. Borntraeger, Thomas T. Dunlop, Fred E. Hoerter, Leo P. Kaufman, Conrad J. Kissler, Henry U. Lang, Charles Manic, William Mehler, Edward H. Meyer, Albert S. Rau, Herman Roelke, Charles W. Schott, Matt Schupp, Henry Weber. When the annual reports are made at the close of the year the Delmont will be found in better condition than ever before.

PREPARATIONS

For Big Euchre Being Made
by Ladies' Auxiliary,
A. O. H.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held their regular meeting Wednesday evening at Robinson's Hall, with Miss Elizabeth King presiding in the absence of the President, Miss Mary Sheridan. Morris were received from the Entertainment Committee, who are in charge of the euchre to be given Wednesday, November 20, and it was announced forty hand some prizes had been secured. The committee respectfully invites every Hibernian in the city and their friends to attend the euchre and promise them a delightful evening's entertainment.

Three new members were obligated and two more are promised for next meeting, and a mass for deceased members will soon be offered at the Dominican church, the exact date to be announced later. Talks on the good of the order were made by Mrs. D. Dougherty, Mrs. John Rommige, Misses Elizabeth King, Fanlie Kennedy and Bridget Branagan.

THEIR FIRST.

St. Columba's Parish Will Celebrate Anniversary
November 17.

St. Columba's church, at Thirty-third and Market streets, will be a year old on Sunday, November 17, and the congregation and pastor, Rev. John D. Kalaher, are preparing for a fitting celebration of its first anniversary. The ceremonies will consist of a solemn high mass at 10:30 o'clock and of solemn vespers and benediction in the evening at 7:30, together with a sermon by one of the most eloquent priests of the city.

A great deal has been accomplished by St. Columba's during the first year of its existence, as the congregation is now well organized and has a largely attended and prosperous school. An addition has recently been built to the church, giving it a much larger seating capacity as well as an ample sanctuary.

The new pastoral residence is also nearing completion, and to add to the building fund the people of St. Columba's have arranged for another of their enjoyable encircles, which have proved so successful in the past on account of the number and quality of the prizes offered. The encircle will take place at Priester's Hall, Twenty-fifth and Market, on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening, November 19 and 20, when numerous elegant prizes will be distributed and a splendid supper served.

GAVE HER LIFE.

Aged Nun Stricken While Seeking Work For Woman.

A crowd stood with bared heads on Avenue A in New York last Saturday afternoon while a priest administered the last rites of the church to a dying Sister of Charity in a store. The crowd was made up of members of the parish of the Immaculate Conception, and their spiritual adviser, Father Turner, was undoubtedly the stricken Sister. Sister Mary St. John, of the Little Sisters of the Assumption, better known as the visiting Sisters of the Poor, was the sufferer. She was sixty years old and feeble. Born in Ireland, she had been born thirty-five years. She came to this country four years ago. Sister Mary was ill and went out upon her administrations to the poor despite the protests of the Mother Superior, Sister Mary de Christ. Three months ago she had been stricken, and it was pointed out to her that she might pay the penalty with her life if she ventured out, but she went anyway. She had been trying for a week to find a place for a deserving woman, and had just been informed that a place would be open Monday. She hastened to the home of the woman, and on the way back was seized with giddiness while on Avenue A, near Fifteenth street. She was found clinging to the iron railing of a fence and carried to a grocery store. Later she was removed to the Convent of the Assumption, where she died within an hour. Sister Mary St. John was formerly Miss Elizabeth Henry.

REMOVING GIANTS' CAUSEWAY

Prefacing its remarks with the statement that "the American vandal knows no respect for things or men, ancient buildings, beauty spots or places with historic associations," a New York newspaper makes bitter complaint regarding an alleged interference by Americans with the basaltic columns which form the magnificent natural spectacle on the Antrim coast, known as the Giants' Causeway.

The story is that certain Americans have conceived the intention of shipping these columns to America, where an effort will be made to reconstitute the causeway in some place, the location of which is still a matter of conjecture. It is stated that the first consignment of two hundred tons, packed in cases, is to be sent from Belfast shortly to Liverpool, whence to be taken to Philadelphia.

The Giants' Causeway, which is one of the great natural sights of the Northern seacoast of Ireland, was until quite recently free to all, but about six years ago powers were obtained by private persons to make a charge for admission.

CHAMPION

American Athletes Expected to Repeat Their Olympiad Victories.

Sheridan, McGrath, Flanagan, Daly and Others Depended Upon.

Clubs Will Send Teams to Compete in London Next Year.

UNCLE SAM'S RECORD HOLDERS

Barring unforeseen accidents, America will furnish the victorious athletic team at the next Olympic games, which will be held in London next August. With the acquisition of several world's record-holders to its list and a noticeable improvement in all of those who competed at Athens last year, the Yankee team is almost certain to roll up an unprecedented number of points. The athletes who will leave these shores for this meet will be the greatest in quality and quantity that have ever competed in an athletic meet in the history of sport. No other country on the face of the earth compares with them. In every branch of sport—from the dashes to the twenty-five-mile Marathon race, and from swimming to weight throwing—the sturdy men of this country collectively outclass those of any other nation.

And of all the athletic clubs from all parts of the world, no club will be more liberally represented than the Irish-Americans of New York City. So many champions of various sports compete in the colors of this club that the management, in order to send its best men, will be compelled to send more than half its athletic members. To select the most probable winners from this club is a task of such proportions that even the experts, trainers and coaches employed by the club will not attempt to do it, and rather than take a chance of losing a point, fifty wearers of the winged fist will be sent abroad to strive for national, club and individual honors. This aggregation will be the largest number of athletes ever sent to a championship meet by one club in the history of athletics. Among those who will don the colors of the Irish-Americans are men who are conceded to be world's champions and others who stand out as the equals of many others.

Although the New York Athletic Club will not send as many entries as their rival, the calibre of the men who represent it will be nearly as high. Among its entries, as with those of the Irish-Americans, it has several world's champions. Other New York clubs, including the Pastime, the Molawak, the Xavier and the Mott Haven, will increase the number from that city to more than a hundred. And while this number will represent Gotham, nearly as many more from other parts of the country will wear the starred and striped shield. No section of the country will be without a representative. The North, the South, the East and the West, all bound together by patriotic inspiration, will strive mightily together to defeat the other nations of the world.

Even at this early date many events are conceded to the American. And with such invincible men as Martin Sheridan, Ralph Rose, Matt McGrath, John Daly, Melvin Shepard, George Bonhag, Paul Pilgrim, Ray Ewry, Hahn, Kelly, Eaton, Hillman, Siduthin, Huff, Ellers, Sheehan, Bellars, O'Connell, Parsons, Daniels, Cor, Prinstein and Flanagan representing us there is every reason that the foreign nations should fear the results. Sheridan, besides being the greatest discus thrower, is probably the greatest all-around athlete in the world, and for this end he is looked upon as a sure winner. He can throw all the weights, jump, vault and run better than any other man in this country, and no one here knows of any other man in any other land who is his equal. Matt McGrath, the world's record holder for throwing the hammer, is considered the greatest in this event, and should McGrath fail through accident to do his best, John Flanagan, of the Irish-American Club, will be on hand to defeat the best of the other nations. With Tom Longboat, the Indian distance runner, out, John Daly, the national champion distance runner, is looked upon as a certain winner in the five-mile race. As in the case of McGrath, the man he must fear is his erstwhile, George Bonhag. While the latter is not considered as good as Daly, he has demonstrated his prowess as a walker, and he will attempt to win the walking events.

At present there is no half-mile in this country the equal of Melvin Shepard, and America is considered to have the best middle-distance runners in the world. The Irish-Americans, in this connection, are the best of the other nations.

Father Charles Cassidy, of the Passionist order, will preach the sermon at the high mass at 10 o'clock. Since Father Sheridan assumed charge of the parish there have been numerous additions to his congregation, and with the additions to the population in that section it need not be surprising if the church will soon be enlarged.

GIRLS DOLAN'S PRIDE

Thomas A. Dolan, the Philadelphia millionaire traction magnate whose recent connection with the Metropolitan Securities Company and William C. Whitney, Thomas F. Ryan, P. A. B. Widener and the late William L. Elkins, has attracted public attention throughout the country, was born of poor but industrious parents in Montgomery county, in 1834. He began his business career as office boy in a commission house and in time was in a position to embark on his own account in the manufacture of the articles in which his firm dealt. His operations gradually extended until they took in not only manufacturing, but organization of traction companies. As a manufacturer he has been noted for kindness to operatives. One day he was walking through a district considered the peers of any other country's representatives.

COUNCIL DOINGS.

Sarto's Members Are Striving Hard for First Place.

Sarto Council, Y. M. I., is reported as moving along in a most satisfactory manner and doing things all the time, with the hope that it will eventually move into first place in the Kentucky jurisdiction. Among the recent very pleasant events under its auspices was one pay euchre, a venture for the men and another for the ladies of the auxiliary and the members, both of which were complimentary, and these were followed by a candy pulling by the ladies that proved a delightful affair. Another event that enthused the Y. M. I. was the victory of their ball team, who with Becker in the box won the City League championship from the semi-professional Owensboro team.

Several nice programmes have been given at the meetings of Sarto Council, and last week an exemplification of the "Pilgrim's Progress" degree was given to the great delight of the members attending. An entirely new side degree that will be the greatest ever is almost ready for exemplification and is expected to prove even more effective than "Pilgrim's Progress." The three degrees of the institute will be conferred on a large class next month. The council has donated the use of their hall for one year to the Queen's Daughters, thus saving a neat sum for their charitable work. A donation has been made to the Catholic Extension Society.

Mrs. J. M. Dawson, wife of Joe Dawson, of Trinity, was buried here last Sunday. She died in Texas, where she had gone for her health. A large number of members attended her funeral. Past Grand Secretary Edwin Dawson, of New Haven, and R. Piero Dawson, of Louisville, also attended.

GIVEN FINE START.

Knights of Columbus Instituted Lebanon Council
Sunday.

Last Sunday was a day that will be long remembered by the Catholicks of Lebanon and Marlon county and marks another epoch in the history of the Knights of Columbus in Kentucky. Upon the arrival of the Loisville Hall the two hundred Knights from the Falls Cities were escorted to St. Augustine's church, where with the candidates they filled the center aisle that had been reserved for them. Rev. Father O'Hearn, and the Knights of Columbus, were the celebrants of the solemn high mass and preached an eloquent welcome sermon. The mass was Gregorian throughout and the choir was assisted by a number of the visitors.

The initiatory ceremonies began at 2 o'clock and continued throughout the afternoon. The exemplification and conferring of degrees was conducted by teams from Louisville Council under the direction of Judge Matt O'Doherty, and when completed Lebanon Council was started on its voyage with about sixty members. The banquet that followed was an elaborate affair and lasted till nearly midnight. Toasts were responded to by Father Hogan, Judge O'Doherty and others, and all returned to this city elated with the hospitality bestowed upon them.

Handsome Crucifix

Will Be Blessed Tomorrow
Night at Holy Cross Church.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock Holy Cross church at Thirty-second and Broadway, of which Rev. John Sheridan is the faithful pastor, will be the scene of one of the most beautiful and impressive ceremonies in the Catholic church. This will be the blessing of a large and handsome crucifix that has just been added to the church. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Charles Cassidy, of the Passionist order, and will be followed by solemn vespers and benediction. Holy Cross is one of the prettiest of the small churches in the city, and Father Sheridan will be much pleased to see it thronged on this occasion.

Father Charles, who is one of the most eloquent orators among the Passionists, will preach the sermon at the high mass at 10 o'clock. Since Father Sheridan assumed charge of the parish there have been numerous additions to his congregation, and with the additions to the population in that section it need not be surprising if the church will soon be enlarged.

DISASTROUS.

The election of last Tuesday resulted disastrously for the Democratic party, and now the Republicans will control both the State and city government. But to few is the outcome of the campaign much of a surprise. For the past year the party has been split into factions, each bent on personal revenge and caring nothing for Democratic principle. As Henry Watterson said Wednesday morning, the Courier-Journal has been burning black smoke for the Democracy, which may take to mean and say that paper carried the pirate flag, as it supported neither the State nor my ticket, and nil because the party could not bow to him, who since his retirement from Congress has always deserted when a battle was to be fought. And right here it might well be said that the Times was as bad, its praise bringing the Democrats only damnation.

The Democrats were basely betrayed by men who had lived off the party for years, and these are one and all numbered. These men are now eager to live off the Republicans, and unless closely watched they will betray that party also. For the straight Republican we have the utmost respect, and hope that only such will reap the reward of their victory.

In the campaign Messrs. Tyler and Grinstead conducted themselves admirably, and it is gratifying to know that on all sides the election is conceded to be the fairest ever held here. Mayor Grinstead can give a good administration, and in so doing should be supported by the masses of the people.

PEACE AGAIN.

With John Dillon actively supporting John Redmond and the Irish party and William O'Brien again ready to accept Redmond's leadership and the party pledge, provided same is made more stringent or allowed greater latitude for individual policies, peace has again dawned in the Nationalist ranks. Their return to the party will lend great help to influence the decisions during the next session of the House of Commons on the questions of land purchase, finance and university settlement. The Archbishop of Cashel and the Bishop of Dromore have also written letters declaring their adhesion to Redmond and the party policy. These are significant signs of the collapse of the attack made on the Irish party since the defeat of the home rule bill.

PATERNALISM.

When we take the position, says a Milwaukee Citizen, that a private corporation must own and manage our public utilities, because the State can not manage as well, we are advocating a paternalism for the people. We can not drive—somebody must do it for them; they can not be expected to light the lamp; somebody must light it for them. Does the theory harmonize with our God-given omnipotence and independence? Perhaps by similar logic it might be shown that if policing the streets might be conducted by the Pinkerton men and that the municipality is better to abolish its fire department and let the insurance companies organize a private corporation to put out fires. Then we would make progress back again, finally sublet the business of the laws to a company of self-perpetuating aristocrats, getting back to the pure system on which society was founded.

CATHOLIC DIOCESES.

It may not be generally known that the United States ranks second in the world in number of dioceses. The number of Archbishops and Bishops in America is ninety in all. Of this number seventy-six are dioceses and fourteen archdioceses. These do not include our five vicariates-apostolic like Brownsville, North Carolina and the Hawaiian Islands, nor does it include our insular possessions, the Philippine Islands, Cuba and Porto Rico. Next to the United States comes France with seventeen archiepiscopal and sixty-seven sees. Then Spain with nine archiepiscopal and forty-seven bishoprics; the Austrian Empire with nine Latin and Oriental archiepiscopal and twenty-five episcopal sees; Ireland with four archiepiscopal and twenty-five bishoprics and Germany with five archdioceses and twenty dioceses. Italy leads all countries with forty-nine archiepiscopal and 214 bishoprics.

BETTER THAN GOLD.

Better than grandeur, better than gold,
Than rank and duties, a thousand fold,
Is a healthy body and mind at ease,
And simple pleasures that always please.

A heart that can feel for another's woes,
With sympathies large enough to enfold
All men as brothers, is better than gold.

Better than gold is a conscience clear,
Though toiling for bread in an humble sphere;
Doubly blessed with content and health,
Untired by the lusts and cares of wealth;

Lowly living and lofty thought Adorn and ennoble a poor man's eat;
For mind and morals in nature's plan Are the genuine tests of a gentleman.

Better than gold is sweet repose
Of the sons of toil when the labors close.
Better than gold is the poor man's sleep,
And the balm that drops on his slumber deep.

Brings sleep draughts on the downy bed,
Where luxury pillows its aching head.
The softer simple opiate deems A shorter route to the land of dreams.

Better than gold is a thinking mind,
That in the realm of books can find
A treasure surpassing Australian ore.

And live with the great and good of yore,
The sage's lore and the poet's lay.

The glories of empires passed away;
The world's great dream will thus unfold.

And yield a pleasure better than gold.

Better than gold is a peaceful home,
Where all the fireside characters come—

The shrine of love, the heaven of life,
Hallowed by mother, or sister, or wife,

However humble the home may be,
O tried with sorrow by Heaven's decree.

The blessing that never were bought or sold,

And center there, are better than gold.

Father Ryan.

UNCLEAN THEATERS.

'Right Rev. M. J. Hoban, Bishop of Scranton, has sounded the keynote of what he will endeavor to make a crusade against unclean shows in the local theaters. Calling attention to Scranton's theaters and the large amount of advertising they are doing, the Bishop said it tended to show competition was very keen and that the Catholics of the city who, in the Bishop's opinion, comprise one-half the patrons of the theaters, have in their power to effectively influence the managers of the theaters to give clean shows and discourage the production of unclean shows. "There are clean actors, and they should be supported," said the Bishop. "There are clean shows, and they should be encouraged. There are plays that are offensives for good as a good sermon. I honestly believe that many a man has been bettered for having seen a good, moral show. Immoral shows work an incalculable evil. If we want clean shows in this city we can have them, and the Catholic men and women of this city can compel managers to give us only clean shows, patronize only the decent shows and the desired result is obtained. Let our Catholic societies take it up. Debate the matter in your meetings, and instruct your Secretaries to reprimand the managers who produce indecent shows. Regard it as a religious duty to disengage in every possible way shows that are immoral, and even actors or actresses who are themselves immoral, or who portray characters that are immoral, and you will accomplish a great good."

FIREMEN AT BANQUET.

Capt. Michael Quinn, Supreme Trustee of the Catholic Knights of America and well known to many members of the order in Louisville, has been signally honored by the Firemen of New York and Brooklyn. Capt. Quinn has been elected President of the Uniformed Officers' Association of the New York Fire Department, and at the tenth annual banquet presided as toastmaster. The event brought together Deputy and Battalion Chiefs, Captains and other officers to the number of 150, who are organized for the purpose of looking after the interests of the members and promoting good fellowship among them. Under President Quinn's administration the association is meeting with remarkable success.

CATHOLIC PREMIERS.

There are two Catholic Premiers within the British dominions. Sir Wilfred Laurier, Premier of Canada, and Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, yet a Catholic can not be Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, where four-fifths of the people are of that faith.

Wishing to avoid any display the wedding was a very quiet one, only the witnesses being present. After the ceremony the newly wedded couple repaired to the home of the groom on West Chestnut, where a sumptuous supper was served. The bride was for some years connected with the firm of Kaufman & Straus and is a very attractive young woman. Mr. Lentzsch holds a responsible position with Klauber, the Fourth avenue art dealer.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

The Hibernians Knights of St. John, N. B., are thinking of visiting Boston in the near future.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets next Wednesday night, and every member who can should attend.

Sixty ladies compose the charter membership of an auxiliary just instituted at Forestville, Conn.

Texas Hibernians have been electing delegates to their State convention, which will be held at Waco.

Division 1 of Hartford, Conn., had the Auditorium and gave entertainments Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Division 15 of Pittsburgh had an immense gathering at the dedication of its new hall and club rooms last Sunday.

The officers of Division 1 hope for a big attendance at the meeting next Friday night. We look to see quite a jollification.

The Hibernians of St. John are making preparations for the Provincial convention which will be held in that city in 1908.

At a meeting of the New Hampshire State Board reports showed an increase of 523 new members and the addition of two divisions.

National President Cummings was in Lowell, Mass., this week, and on Thursday night addressed a monster union meeting of the order there.

Thursday night at the meeting of Division 3 the Indianapolis trip will be discussed and plans submitted that are calculated to make the trip a popular one.

Reports submitted last Sunday when the County Board met show the Syracuse divisions making steady gains. All have increased their membership this year.

The five divisions and the auxiliaries of Lowell, Mass., held a grand reunion Thursday night, commemorating the establishment of the order there forty years ago.

Each of the four divisions of Manchester, N. H., have appointed ten members to form a general committee to act upon matters pertaining to the order and local conditions.

Division 60 of Boston, composed largely of printers, under the guidance of President Punish and his able officers, will surely make one of the best reports ever rendered by a first year division at the end of the term.

A proposal of great importance to the order is under consideration by the provincial President of the Dominion of Canada. It is the organization of the five provinces, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, under one board, with a Canadian charter. By this means it is hoped to enlarge the membership, increase the amount of insurance policies that may be issued and in general place the order on a stronger footing, thereby enabling it to compete with other great fraternal organizations in that country.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Miss Gertrude Sherman, the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherman, took place Sunday afternoon from St. Francis of Rome church, Rev. Father White conducting the solemn services. Miss Sherman was one of the most exemplary and popular young girls in Clifton, and a wide circle of friends and admirers feel that that section has suffered a distinct loss.

The funeral obsequies of Mrs. Catherine Moellman, beloved wife of August Moellman, Hancey and Madison street, held Thursday morning at St. Boniface church, were of the most solemn and impressive character. A congregation that almost filled the church was present to show their love and esteem for the deceased, who was one of the best known women in the parish. For the bereaved husband and relatives there is the most profound sympathy.

William P. Sheridan, for years engaged in the wall paper business on West Market street, died on Friday of pneumonia at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Sheridan, 2421 West Madison street. Though ill for some time it was not until just before the end that fear was entertained for his recovery. Of a quiet and unassuming nature, he had a wide circle of friends who were deeply grieved by his death. The funeral took place from St. Charles church, Rev. Father Raffo conducting the solemn services.

TOMORROW'S COLLECTION.

Tomorrow in all the Catholic churches throughout this diocese collections will be taken up in behalf of infirm priests, and doubtless there will be a generous response to the appeal made for them by Bishop McCloskey. These good priests, who were ever ready when called upon to relieve sickness and distress, have sacrificed their lives and the little means they had for humanity, without ever giving thought to their old age or day of need, and therefore Catholics should feel called upon to be as liberal as possible.

TOOK TEN DAYS.

Patrolmen Frank Camfield, Edward Pulford, J. J. Finnegan, John Sage and Jerry O'Connell have been enjoying their annual vacation of ten days, and will report for duty Monday.

BACK ON DUTY.

Capt. Mike Cassin and Tim Brown, who sustained painful burns while rescuing the Wiseman family from the fire that damaged their home on Preston street last week, are again on duty. When the firemen entered the house the kitchen lamp exploded and threw burning oil over them. They rushed into the yard and by rolling over and over in the tall

Felix Mallon Run Over By Interurban Car Saturday.Felix Mallon, an aged and much respected resident of the eastern part of the city, was run over Saturday by an interurban car at Clay and Green streets, within half a block of his home, and sustained injuries from which he died Sunday afternoon at St. Anthony's Hospital. The unfortunate man was a retired traveling salesman and a brother-in-law of Mrs. John J. Barrett, 833 East Main street, from whose residence the funeral was held Tuesday morning. Mr. Mallon, it appears, was crossing the street and did not notice the rapidly approaching car until it was too late to jump from the track. He was hit with such force that he was hurled onto the sidewalk, almost upsetting a woman whom he struck. Deceased had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who were painfully shocked by the news of his death. The funeral services were held at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, of which deceased had been for many years a faithful member.

highest stations within its gift in India, was a passenger on the Baltic, arriving at New York Saturday morning. It is Sir Antony's first visit to America. "I have come here for rest and recreation," said Sir Antony. "I have left politics behind.
I don't intend to discuss them with reporters, and I did not come here to talk over political plans with anybody."

FATHER DIESTEL CALLED.

A gall of gloom was thrown over Evansville last Sunday night when the sad intelligence flashed over the city that the Rev. Father H. John Diestel had dropped dead, the result of a stroke of heart disease. Father Diestel was sixty-eight years old and for over half a century had been the beloved pastor of Holy Trinity church. From all parts of the diocese the clergy came to the funeral, which was perhaps the largest and most imposing ever witnessed in Evansville.

HIS FIRST RUN.

Albert T. Schranz, candidate for Councilman from the Sixth ward, whose card appears elsewhere, is making his first political race a lively one. Born and reared in the West End, he has a large personal following and has reason to expect a splendid vote. He has been successful in the real estate business and is well qualified for Councilmanic honors.
